To Whom It May Concern,

After graduating with a degree in Public Administration from Mugla Sitki Kocman University, I am applying to the Master's program in Public Policy at the European Humanities University to gain in-depth knowledge and skills in politics. My life changed 180 degrees when I decided to get higher education abroad, in Turkey. During my undergraduate studies, I discovered completely different knowledge and ways of administration, especially in politics, which I had been interested in since my teenage years. I realized that I want to learn more about administration systems and politics. Attending your university will undoubtedly help me realize my ambitions. I believe that further studies at your university will strengthen and deepen my existing knowledge and experience.

During my undergraduate studies, I gained high-quality knowledge about world politics, law and history. I'm thrilled to share that my most important accomplishment during this time was my Bachelor's Degree in Public Administration. I also gained valuable experience by participating in various conferences, completing different projects and organizing various events. I organized a community of students from Central Asia, ran a book club dedicated to these students and volunteered at the university. I also interacted with students from various countries and together we organized events for foreign students. Through my involvement in different organizations, I gained valuable experience in communication, teamwork and problem-solving. I am interested in joining the European Humanities University because it provides an international educational experience with a focus on quality education for students dedicated to supporting civil society development. The university values European principles that promote students' holistic development through democracy. Additionally, I am confident that the Master's program in Public Policy, with subjects such as Modern Theories of Democracy and Civil Society, Public Administration and Current Issues in Social Theory, will equip me with the necessary professional knowledge for my career development as a specialist.

For the reasons stated above, I believe that EHU is the best choice for pursuing a master's degree. My future goal is to become a highly skilled political expert with a deep understanding of politics and a strong sense of professionalism in my field. Also, my great desire is to be a bridge between my homeland, Kazakhstan, and other developed countries. I hope to contribute to the development of political relations with these countries.

The Tuition Grant is an exceptional opportunity, and I would like to have the chance to benefit from it. I am fully prepared to immerse myself in learning and put in the hard work needed to achieve my goals. I am committed to being a diligent student, and I am eager to receive a quality education with your support.

Sincerely,

Aida Salimova
