I am writing to express my sincere interest in applying for the Gender Studies program at the European Humanities University. As a recent graduate of Sriwijaya University in Indonesia, majoring in International Relations, I have a developed profound understanding and passion for gender issues. My academic background in International Relations has equipped me with a comprehensive understanding of economic, political, social, and cultural issues. However, it was the study of gender that truly captivated my interest and passion. This focus has driven my desire to further specialize in Gender Studies, and I am confident that EHU is the perfect place for me to achieve this goal.

Beyond my academic achievements, I have actively engaged in various creative competitions that align with the mission of the European Humanities University. One such experience was participating in a poster competition focused on literacy. My project, titled "expressiveness of Indonesian language and literature in digital literacy Especially in women," aimed to highlight the importance of education for girls in Indonesia. The poster featured powerful visuals, compelling statistics, and personal stories to emphasize the transformative power of literacy. My campaign brought me to be the runner up. This experience underscored the importance of visual communication in advocacy and reinforced my dedication to gender equity through education.

In addition, Me and my team produced a creative video addressing environmental issues, which was held by Scouts of Sriwijaya University. The project titled "let's green our earth" was a collaborative effort involving extensive research, scriptwriting, and multimedia production. Our focus was on "sustainable living," and we aimed to inspire viewers to adopt environmentally friendly practices. We incorporated poor environmental conditions and real-life examples of sustainable initiatives. The video also earned a runner up in the competition. This project not only honed my skills in multimedia storytelling but also highlighted the potential of creative media in driving social change. It instilled in me the belief that effective communication can galvanize communities towards collective action.

The opportunity to study at EHU is particularly compelling due to its interdisciplinary approach and commitment to fostering critical thinking and social responsibility. I am confident that the diverse and dynamic learning environment at EHU will provide me with the tools and knowledge necessary to become a leader in the field of gender studies. Moreover, being part of a vibrant community of scholars and activists will undoubtedly enrich my academic journey and professional growth.

However, I must also address my financial circumstances. Coming from a modest background, securing a 100% grants is crucial for me to pursue my studies at EHU. Without this financial support, I would be unable to afford the tuition and living expenses associated with studying abroad. I am fully committed to making the most of this opportunity and contributing positively to the university community.

In conclusion, I am deeply committed to the principles of gender equality and social justice. I believe that the Gender Studies program at EHU is the ideal platform for me to advance my knowledge, engage with like-minded individuals, and drive positive change. I am eager to bring my passion, dedication, and diverse experiences to your program and look forward to the opportunity to contribute to and grow within EHU.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of contributing to the esteemed European Humanities University.

Sincerely,

Nailatul Ramadanti
